"The labor movement was the principal force that transformed misery and despair into hope and progress. Out of its bold struggles, economic and social reform gave birth to unemployment insurance, old age pensions, government relief for the destitute, and above all new wage levels that meant not mere survival, but a tolerable life."

DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING JR.
October 1965

"It's time we had a president who will stand up for working men and women by building an economy that rewards not just wealth, but work and the workers who create it. ... It's time you had a president who honors organized labor – who's walked on picket lines; who doesn't choke on the word 'union'; who lets our unions do what they do best and organize our workers."

PRESIDENT BARACK OBAMA
September 2008

A message from the men and women of the UAW, standing together for workplace rights,
civil rights and human rights.
